

WEBSITE PRIVACY POLICY

This site is protected by reCAPTCHA and the Google Privacy Policy and Terms of Service apply.

This Website Privacy Policy explains the personal information Dilworth Trust Board is collecting about you, when you use the website, how it is used, shared and stored – as set out in this Policy. It should be read in conjunction with the website Terms and Conditions.

Collection, Storage and Use

Use of personal information

We will only use personal information provided for the purpose of administering, evaluating and improving the website, improving our services and communicating with you.

Where you have given us personal information about you such as by interacting with the website for filling out forms, emailing, interacting with information such as newsletters, the information about you thus gathered is governed by the Privacy Statement governing the Dilworth Redress Programme. This is found in the content on the website here.

information

Unfortunately, no data transmission over the internet can be guaranteed as totally secure. Whilst we strive to protect such information, we do not warrant and cannot ensure the security of any information which you transmit to us. Accordingly, any information that is transmitted to us is transmitted at your own risk. Nevertheless, once we receive your transmission, we will take reasonable steps to preserve the security of such information.

Feedback

Feedback is important and is used to evaluate and improve the website. If you provide feedback on the website directly to administrator@dilworthredress.org.nz via the contacts on the website, that feedback will be sent to appropriate staff.

Statistical Information and Cookies

We may collect statistical information about your visit to help us improve the website. This information is aggregated and non-personally identifying. It includes but is not limited to:

- your IP address;
- Your geolocation;

- the search terms you used;
- the pages you accessed on our website and the links you clicked on;
- the date and time you visited the website;
- the referring Site (if any) through which you clicked through to this website;
- your operating system (e.g. Windows XP, Mac OS X);
- the type of web browser you use (e.g. Internet Explorer, Mozilla Firefox); and
- other incidental matters such as screen resolution, the release of your installed Flash version and the language setting of your browser.

Use of statistical information

The statistical information referred to above will be viewable by Website administrators and certain other staff.

Cookies, Web Beacons, Log Information

This website generates persistent session cookies for the purpose of monitoring website usage. The cookies do not collect personal information. You can disable them or clear them out of the web browser you are using to view this website.

This website may also track your use of it through other means such as log information and web beacons.

Rights of Access and Correction

Your Rights

Under the Privacy Act 1993, you have the right to access and to request correction of any of your personal information provided to the Dilworth Redress Programme in connection with your use of this website. If you would like to see the personal information relating to you that the Dilworth Redress Programme has stored or to change such personal information, or if you have any concerns regarding your privacy, please contact us. Dilworth Redress Programme may require proof of your identity before being able to provide you with any personal information.